Queens Jubilee

To mark 60 years of the Queen's reign the Diamond Jubilee will take place during an extended Bank Holiday weekend the beginning of June 2012. The Queen came to the throne on 6 February 1952 and her Coronation took place on the 2nd June 1953. She celebrated her Silver Jubilee in 1977 and her Golden Jubilee in 2002. The only other British monarch to celebrate a Diamond Jubilee was Queen Victoria in 1897. Buckingham Palace will be co-ordinating a programme of events centred around the extended weekend, the highlight being a Diamond Jubilee Pageant on the Thames. The flotilla, estimated to be up to a 1,000 boats, the largest ever to be assembled on the Thames in modern times will take place on the 3rd June. A specially commissioned barge equipped with a Diamond Jubilee ensign, will depart from a Putney pontoon and sail to Tower Bridge.

Windsor Tattoo

The Windsor Castle Royal Tattoo is all about raising support for our servicemen and women on operations and raising awareness of what these people do. The event is not-for-profit, and all proceeds raised go to the Royal British Legion. At a time when our forces are in ever greater demand, here is an opportunity for the public to honour and show support for its soldiers in service across the globe. Under the spectacular setting of the floodlit Windsor Castle ramparts a unique presentation of military splendour is planned, with live displays, military re-enactments and marching bands. The grand finale of the evening will be a breathtaking fireworks display set against the backdrop of Windsor Castle.
